

Viking Appliances | Microwave Oven A Good Party Maker.

Microwave ovens are used by and large for time capacity in both the developed restaurants as well as at home. The microwave ovens used in the restaurants are big convection ovens. They help in cooking the food fast and in larger amounts. Earlier the restaurant owners had to employ many chefs to finish up the cooking, but now this work can be done with the help of 3-4 chefs very easily. A compact microwave oven can be small and portable. These microwave ovens are usually rated between 500-1000 watts of power. These are generally used at homes for cooking, pre heating, grilling and baking. These ovens cannot be used in big restaurants or hotels to cook large amount of food. These can be used in college canteens, small cafes or homes.

The foremost remark has been that the food cooked in microwave oven is safe to eat as the food cooked by other means. Though microwave ovens have become a quite regular appliance all over the world, but it is mostly used in the western countries. The food is promptly cooked in the microwave oven. It is well-organized and conceivably healthier than other food.

It's a challenge for every chef or a lady to add zing and spice to the cuisine, apart from the regular meal, and all the gratitude goes to the microwave oven. It was my birthday. I wanted to throw a party for my near and dear ones. I was very excited and the gathering was about 20-25 people. I have a passion for cooking. I was very eager to prepare food for my friends in the microwave oven. I wanted to impress them by my skills in cooking and wanted to entertain them with some delicious treats. I prepared different types of snacks and meals for them. My friends love Mexican food. I mastered my art with the dishes prepared in the microwave oven. I even prepared some pizzas. Before my friends came, I pre baked the pizza bases and wrapped them and kept aside so that it would not take much time for me to pre heat the pizza once my friends arrive. I decorated the pizza with three-four different toppings so that my friends could enjoy them. To end up with the meals I prepared some delicious deserts because without the deserts the party was incomplete. All my friends enjoyed the food very much. According to them it was an experience of a delicious journey of tastes through out the party. They were continuously appreciating the food prepared by me and I was smiling and feeling happy that my microwave oven helped me in doing all this in time.

One of my friend's microwave oven was not giving her proper service. She wanted to buy a new microwave oven. She was delighted to see how excellently I presented my skills in cooking. She was impressed and even she wanted to buy the same microwave oven which I had been using. I showed her my Viking microwave oven. Even she wanted to buy a Viking microwave oven. She immediately logged on to the Toronto appliances and went through all the products. She not only placed an order for a microwave oven but also placed an order for a portable dish washer as she was in need of that also. Both the products were shipped to her house within few days. She was very happy with her new appliances.
