It is always seen that grooms gets no response in the whole planning process of wedding. Though it is true that groom is only the center of attraction for bride but he must get some respect during the planning process of wedding. People also believe that groom has nothing do in planning process of wedding, the thing matters is only bride and her wishes. This is the wrong perception by the people and the question is worth asking that really groom has nothing to do in the planning process of wedding.

Sometimes, or as a matter of chance, bride decides to take the help of groom but that too in the initial stage of the planning process but after that everything comes back to normal. It is natural that bride will involve groom in the planning process for wedding because they are not planning for a party but a wedding. But for other people groom is like a no other person but a common man who wants to get married. Even the wedding organizer does not know the name of the groom and can call bride with her first name. Groom is always in the confusion that will his opinion will be considered or he has to follow the planning from the side of bride's family. Even a groom is considered as a typical man when by chance he tells his preference about flowers and of other things.

A wedding should be properly planned by the two people that are bride and groom. At times there are chances that one party has to made some compromises but on the other hand other party has to be little rational. Understanding can help both bride and groom and can have a perfect wedding ceremony. The wedding will never work if either of them is not satisfied with the arrangements. So it is always advisable that both bride and groom should be considered equally during the planning process of wedding. Why should always groom should compromise in everything. Groom should be given a chance to present him and an active part in the planning process of wedding. Grooms cannot be always ignored after all they are also human beings and have some emotions on their side.
