

A Review of the 500 Jackpot Casino Poker Chip Set

Have you ever wanted to own a poker chip set for your home that would give off a casino feel? While the red, white and blue plastic chips can do the job, they don't even compare to a real casino chip. Recently, we took a look at the 500 jackpot casino set that Poker Stars Direct has to offer to help you realize just how big of a difference it can be. Get ready to change the way you and your friends play poker.

The Benefits Of Real Casino Chips

You probably already know what the first benefit is when you own a casino poker chip set right? How about not having to remember what red, white and blue plastic chips stand for in a poker game. It happens all the time when someone thinks they're betting $5, but their really betting $25. No thanks! That's just a quick route to the ATM. If you have a professional, casino style set, that won't happen anymore. Why? Well, the denominations are on the chips.

The next benefit comes from counting the money at the end of night. If you are having a game where people are buying into it, denominations are so much easier to count. Especially when plastic poker chips sometimes change in size over time and you can't stack them for the proper amount like dealers do at any casino. Your friends and family will thank you later for a smooth night of dealing and collecting. Those who win will thank you even more.

We could go on forever about all the benefits of casino style poker chips, but you get the idea. The last benefit we wanted to talk about is the professional appeal real poker chips give your players. Many of them like to try to use the chips as an intimidation piece by doing tricks with them or just playing with them before making that all-in move. For those who enjoy this type of strategy might even tip you later just for having such an extravagant setup.

500 Jackpot Casino Clay Chips with Mahogany Case

Poker Stars Direct offers a stylish poker chip case with much more than just clay chips. This addition to their website has denominations from one dollar, five, twenty-five, fifty, one hundred, and five hundred. Hey, even high rollers want to be able to have a big stakes game here and there in their household. One thing to remember is the denominations are not labeled and are actually embedded into the poker chips themselves.

The mahogany case will be a great presentation piece as it sits on the table right before the buy-in. People will be wondering where you purchased such a stylish set of poker chips. Then that's when you'll tell them about Poker Stars Direct. Pretty soon, everyone will be owning great looking poker supplies so no matter where you go, every game will be a good one.

The Overall Analysis

Okay, you already know we love what a jackpot casino poker chip set can do for your game. The question is what can it do for your pocketbook. Normally, something of this magnitude costs somewhere between $250-$300. Poker Stars Direct has it for almost 40% off the regular retail price. I don't think we need to tell you the kind of deal that can be if you take it. When you get a chance, just go over and take a look. We know you'll like what you see.
