

White Wicker Furniture is the Way to Go

Wicker will definitely give to the exotic summer look to your ordinary looking patio. Wicker is also tough but lightweight. This is why more people have opted for wicker. No matter what, you should always take extra care when it comes to wicker, as it does tend to wear out when continuously exposed to the weather without protection.

The hot weather can actually dry up wicker material. The wood can also be damaged by too much moisture in the air. However, for plastic wicker, it can withstand moisture a little better.

The patio can be taken care of with a little oil now and then. This will replace the moisture that was lost. Keep your wicker under shelter when there are precipitations. You can also place them under umbrellas or covers.

The wicker legs must be placed with protective caps before you place them on the lawn. This is to protect them from the soil that can cause rotting. Often, you should clean them and put some oil and varnish on them. This will be stated on the manuals so that your wicker furniture can last longer as they really should.

If you should soil your wicker furniture, quickly clean it up as it may otherwise be absorbed into within, especially in unsealed spots.

Most wicker furniture in the market will already be framed with aluminum, rattan or steel. They are also usually woven with polythene resin or vinyl. Combined together, your all weather wicker furniture will be more durable against the weather.

The most beautiful wickers in your mind would probably be white. Were you influenced by the TV or feel that you miss your younger days? No matter what it is, you can always paint your wicker white if you want to.

The way the guys over in the factory does it is by dipping the wicker into paint twice. This will be able to cover all parts of it without missing a spot. After that, the wicker will be applied with a finishing that will make it look weathered. If they use dye, then it will be mixed into the resin so as to prevent peeling.

There are a few selection of wicker to choose from. You can go with unvarnished, exterior coated or soft weathered paint. Nevertheless, please do make sure that your wicker is tightly woven and there are no splinters and gaps.

What are the kinds of wicker furniture that you can have? These can be a reading chair or dining chairs for your patio, a chaise lounge for your bedroom. You can also find wicker tables, ottomans, headboard, benches, swings, gliders and of course, the storage trunk.

Wicker furniture is not limited to what you can find for your patio. You can even furnish the nursery room with wicker furniture such as the toy chest and rocker. They are elegant to look at and light enough for the children. What a nice combination.

Do look into wicker furniture whether you intend it for your indoor or outdoor area. They are very elegant to have. If you want a more modern approach, then consider plastic ones. These also withstand the elements better. Browse on a good selection online and compare what the manufacturers have to offer. Take this opportunity to feast your eyes on the range of wicker furniture available in the market. You will be spoilt for choice

Go ahead and create that cottage or country look that makes you feel so at home. Want a classier look? Then maybe you want to consider a darkly painted wicker furniture set. But then, do not only concentrate on the wicker itself. You can after all complete your wicker furniture with cushion covers and here lies your chance to show your style. These covers are good not only for you to colorize but also for comfort. Your covers may be in solid colors or printed with patterns. Again, it is all up to the effect you want to create against the existing background.

About the Author

Kenny Leichester is a foremost expert in the interior design industry specializing in the outdoor or patio settings using outdoor patio furniture, patio umbrellas, outdoor cushions, patio heaters, patio lighting and so on to create exquisitely beautiful layout. His work on patio heaters and so on are widely distributed and is a regular contributor to PatioShoppers.com.

Source: www.isnare.com

Source: <http://articles.exospy.com>