

A Review of the Future World Income Opportunity

Future World, based out of Irving, Texas, is a home based internet business company. It offers a variety of books and other products for the consumer to place on their own website for others to order. And the testimonials provided on the site are all from people who have built their business from scratch.

The website offers the new seller a cloning method to immediately set up their own business website. Future World provides the new members with a sample back worth over $100.00 that other dealers have sold with great success. They claim that starting the business costs less than $2.00 a day. Retailers reach up to 195 countries. 24-hour phone support is offered to new dealers in addition to an interactive catalog of items that are available through Future World to begin your business.

The company offers a wide range of items to be sold from books to audio equipment to computer needs, food, drugs, cosmetics, even household appliances. Retailers are paid on a commission basis the first week of every month and are notified by e-mail whenever a sale has been made. Future World offers their sellers a monthly special which can be purchased for a discounted rate as well as all of the other products that they carry.

For anyone interested in working with this company to build their own internet business, they will need to pay a monthly fee of $49.95 to cover the cost of setup and maintenance of the seller's particular website. Future World's website also states that anyone paying the start-up fee with a credit card will be billed in advance for an additional month. Anyone paying by check is asked to mail in three months fee. By having your own website business through Future World, you are able to add your own products to be sold.

There are a few restrictions on how you advertise your Future World based business. For example, any advertising that you create must be approved by their legal department before being posted. Any material that is considered offensive can not be added to the website, nor can unsolicited bulk mailings be made without consequence.

Future World also offers five different levels of website hosting with a variety of different features to choose from. For people looking for better internet access rates, the company also has internet service provider options. They will also register domain names for the seller. Each of these additional services does come with a price tag.

When considering starting an internet-based business such as the one Future World offers, the prospective seller needs to make sure they read all of the fine print within each offer. They also need to review the products the hosting company is offering for sale and weigh the pros and cons of dealing with them.

The fact that Future World offers everything for a person to start their own business seems almost too good to be true without reviewing exactly how much the start up will be if they are using all of the options provided. What could be a lucrative business idea may not be as cost-effective starting out when the seller have to immediately put out close to three hundred dollars that may not be recouped in the first few months.
