

Accessorizing For a Casual Date

So you have finally gotten asked out by the hottest guy around and he says he wants to do something casual for the weekend. Great right? Well figuring out what you should wear can be hard enough. But adding nice accessories to your outfit doesn't have to be. Fleur de lis jewelry, apparel and accessories can be the perfect way to add the best extra touches for your special date.

Some great suggestions for putting on nice accessories can be based on exactly what the two of you are going to do. Let's say, for the sake of argument, that you will be going to a casual brunch and a matinee on a Sunday. Or, you are going to a barbecue on Saturday night. Whatever and wherever you may be going, you can add your accessories without worry.

Making an Impression

While you want to make a great impression, you don't want to overdo your jewelry or clothes since the occasion will be casual. A great idea for accomplishing this without going over the top can be to wear something that would be a conversation piece. This can be a subtle way to grab his attention, and show off your sense of style at the same time.

* One example of this would be a tee shirt with your favorite television show on it, your favorite bar, organization, or emblem. This would tell him a little bit about your interests and personality. This can be an easy way to get the conversation started.

* Another fun way to add to your outfit would be an eye catching belt. Since you look fabulously casual anyway, an attractive belt can add the extra something you are going for. Getting him to focus entirely on how great and well put together you look can be fun when using accent pieces like a belt. Remember, just because you are going on a casual date, doesn't mean you have to look frumpy!

Jewelry

The jewelry that you decide on adding to your casual ensemble can make speak volumes about you without speaking a word. Simple earrings added to nice slacks and a blouse are great accents without over-powering your ensemble.

* Spicing things up to a tee shirt and jeans is easily accomplished by adding a pretty pair of chandelier earrings. While these can seem a little too dressy for the date, they can really show off your fashion sense. Giving him a little hint of how gorgeous you can be dressed up is a smart way to get his wheels turning.

* Wearing one or two rings is also a safe bet, but you should be careful about where you place them. You don't want to wear anything on your left ring finger that could be confused with an engagement/promise/wedding ring. Even if you know that it's not-he may not be too good at telling the difference. Let's not confuse him.

* A right hand cocktail ring and a thumb ring can be the perfect combination. The cocktail ring shows off your sense of style, while a thumb ring shows off your playful side. Most men are sure to notice a thumb ring! Keep your diamonds at home and wear rings from your fashion jewelry collection. If a thumb ring is not really your style, choose another ring that is simple and attractive.

* Other fashion jewelry, such as bracelets and necklaces can also be attention grabbers. Wearing a sparkling necklace or a rhinestone bracelet is nice way to accent your casual wardrobe. You shouldn't be afraid to add a little shine to your tee shirt and jeans. These pieces, when worn properly, offer him a nice opportunity to compliment you on your jewelry.

In conclusion, If you want to come across as interesting and intriguing, you CAN accomplish this even on a casual date with the right accessories. Putting together a smart, sexy, and fun casual look is yours for the taking. Knock his socks off with the details and enjoy going out for a casual date. This will be even more exciting with the proper accessories on hand!
