

Enjoy Your Leisure Time in Bethel Park

Bethel Park is a municipality in Pennsylvania State. The town has many leisure activities for residents and non residents. Let us check out some of the leisure activities in Bethel Park.

The Municipality of the town offers the residents of the town with a variety of recreational and leisure activities. The recreational facilities have been developed keeping in mind the requirements of people of in all age groups. It would be of interest to know that residents of the town are privy to art lessons, swim lessons, karate classes, ballroom dancing classes which are provided by the Municipality for a small amount of fees.

Apart from all these training sessions, residents of the town can enroll themselves in aquatic programs, youth programs, adult programs or many other amusement programs that are organized frequently. There are also leisure centers like the amusement park where families can spend a complete day without getting tired. There are many among us who would like to spend their leisure time in an open park. For this purpose, the town has got quite a few parks namely the Simmons Park, Village Green Park and Millennium Park. The Millennium Park is located on 5900 Baptist Road and spread over an area of 40 acres. We know that Bethel Park is indeed famous for its parks. The list is long but some of the other notable ones are the Peter Page Park on Church Road which is over an area of 16.65 acres, the small but nice Oak Tree Park on Summit Street and Mollyhill Park. The residents of the town will always have a place to visit during their leisure time.

The high school in Bethel Park has around 2 thousand students in grades 9–12. It's one of the biggest high schools in Pennsylvania and consists of 8 buildings on a 80-acre campus. Its curriculum includes ten Advanced Placement Program courses, 14 honors courses and four foreign language programs. The current principal is Dr. Zeb Jansante. Its mascot is the Black Hawk.

The highest point in Bethel Park is Rocky Ridge in the southwestern portion of the municipality, 1,370 feet (420 m), and the lowest point is at the intersection of the Piney Fork and Alsip Run creeks, 980 feet (300 m), in the southeast corner of the municipality.

South Hills Village is a 2-story mall and shopping area, with 133 different stores including some of the top brands and a prime shopping location in Pittsburgh, PA area.

The South Hills Village is a two-level enclosed shopping mall located in the upscale Pittsburgh suburbs of Bethel Park and Upper St. Clair. It was originally developed by the Oxford Development Company as the first enclosed two-story shopping mall in the United States and is currently owned by Simon Property Group. It is anchored by Macy's (formerly Lazarus and Horne's) and Sears. The mall features over 130 specialty stores including Abercrombie and Fitch, American Eagle Outfitters, Hollister Co., Aeropostale, J. Crew, Ann Taylor Loft, Banana Republic, Lucky Brand Jeans, and an Apple Computer store. The mall also houses a food court and several professional offices. This mall was the largest in the United States until the Monroeville Mall, which was also developed by the Oxford Development Company and planned to be twenty percent larger, opened in 1969.

The South Hills Village Garage is one of three parking facilities constructed by the Authority as part of the Stage II Light Rail Transit Project. Stage II includes the reconstruction and modernization of the Overbrook Line; expansion of park and ride lot spaces; modernization and expansion of the Operations Control Center; installation of improved overhead wire and power system and new cab signals and gated crossings.
